

Eutectic phases

This micrograph shows a light-colored, textured metal matrix. Scattered throughout are dark, irregularly shaped particles of varying sizes. Some of these particles are elongated and fibrous, while others are more rounded. The overall appearance is that of a composite material or a metal alloy with secondary phases.

Individual SiC particles

Aluminium dendrite

Agglomerated SiC particles

20 Microns